Vitacam[®]

Calcium + Vitamin D3
Plus Magnesium

Ca

Calcium is needed for strong bones. Calcium is the most common mineral in the body, primarily found in bones and teeth. It is essential for maintaining the bone mass necessary to support the skeleton. The body is also constantly using calcium in muscle and nerve functions as well as to carry out functions in the heart.

D3

Vitamin D has many important jobs in your body. It keeps your bones strong by helping your body absorb calcium and phosphorus, key minerals for bone health. Your muscles use it to move, and nerves need it to carry messages throughout your body.

Mg

Magnesium stimulates the hormone calcitonin, which helps to preserve bone structure by drawing calcium out of the blood and soft tissues back into the bones. This action helps lower the likelihood of osteoporosis, some forms of arthritis

Vitacam provides 100% NRV (Nutrient Reference Value) of calcium carefully combined with co-factors including vitamin D and magnesium, all of which help to maintain normal bone health. Calcium is important for everyone, ensuring an adequate intake of calcium is vital for men and women of all ages, as evidence suggests that healthy practices early in life, including the adequate consumption of calcium and trace elements, contribute to normal bone health and optimal bone mineralization. Bone minerals content tends to be lower in women than in men. Dietary calcium intake may decrease with age. The rate of bone loss accelerates at menopause.

Vitacam provides the same levels of calcium, magnesium which contribute to the maintenance of normal bone health. Getting enough calcium is especially important for men and women over 50, during pregnancy and breast-feeding, as well as during and after the menopause.

Coenzyme Q10+Vitamin E
L-Arginine, L-Carnitin, L-Lysine
Omega-3, Zinc, Vitamins & Minerals

Female fertility decreases with age due to a decline in the number and quality of available eggs.

CoQ10 is directly involved in this process. As you age, CoQ10 production slows, making the body less effective at protecting the eggs from oxidative damage.

Supplementing with CoQ10 seems to help and may even reverse this age-related decline in egg quality and quantity.
